

Name	Dr. Lilian Adhiambo Owoko
Qualification	PhD in Anthropology
Picture(JPEG or better)
Department	Sociology and Anthropology
Email:	lowoko@maseno.ac.ke alilichris@yahoo.com
Postal Address:	333 – 40105 Maseno
Brief Bio	Lilian is a gracious alumni of Maseno University, having pursued all her three degrees therein. She has a Bachelors in Sociology while her Masters and PhD are in Anthropology. Lilian joined the department of Sociology and Anthropology in 2008 as a Graduate Assistant. Her research interests are in social protection for older populations as well as HIV& AIDS and ART related issues among adolescents and young adults. She is a Christian.
Current Research: We also need past research activities	Research for PhD, title of thesis: Socio-cultural and Demographic factors influencing adherence among adolescents living with HIV on second-line antiretroviral therapy in Gem sub-County, Western Kenya Research for Masters, title of thesis: Support systems for the elderly in Malunga-West sub-location, Siaya County, Western Kenya

Publications:	Owoko, L.A. Socio-cultural support systems for the elderly and its implications for formal social protection programmes in rural Western Kenya. International Journal of Sociology and Anthropology Vol. 7(7), pp.168-177 July, 2015 Lilian Owoko, Charles Olang’o, Benson Nyambega. Exploring Caregiver-Teen Communication on Adherence to ART among Adolescents living with HIV in Gem Sub-County, Western Kenya. The International Journal of Humanities and Social Studies Vol. 7 (5), pp. 146-153 May, 2019 Lilian Owoko, Charles Olang’o, Benson Nyambega. Socio-demographic Factors of HIV-Positive Adolescents on Second-line ART Regimen and their Influence on Adherence in Rural Western Kenya. IOSR Journal Of Humanities And Social Science Vol. 24 (4),pp. 41-51 April, 2019